Society

An old-fashioned spelling match and pumpkin pie supper was held Friday evening by the students of the Kelley Business school, 225 E. Wayne st. The auditorium, decorated with autumn leaves and pumpkins, was the scene of the program. The program opened with a number of Victoria selections and several recitations, after which Miss Geneva Morris of South Bend and Clarence Becker of Mishawaka, leaders of the spelling teams, chose 11 spellers each, and after a spirited contest which lasted an hour, Miss Morris' team won. A free for all match followed, in which 50 participated. Miss Ethel Nincehiller of River Park won the honors. At the close of the evening pumpkin pie, doughnuts and beer were served. Almost the entire membership of the school was present.

Miss Ferol DeFrees entertained 16 friends in a delightful manner Friday evening at her home, 229 S. Williams st. The house was attractive in its decorations of corn stalks and jack-o'-lanterns, and delicious refreshments were served.

Mortimer Sibley, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sibley, entertained 15 friends at a Halloween party Friday evening at his home, 612 Park av. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion and Halloween games and contests were features of a delightful evening. In one contest favors were won by Miss Katherine and Mary Louise Page. The little guests included Frank Sherrett, John Woolverton, George Keller, Glen Myers, Albert Campbell, Donald Hager, John Hammond, Fred Dennis, James Dennis, Josephine Clark, Mary Harriett Miller and Katherine and Mary Louise Page.

The Oriental club will entertain Monday evening with its annual harvest dance in American hall. It will be a costume affair and the Sperry orchestra will play the program of dances. The committee in charge includes Miss Genevieve Hilliard, Miss Louise Crepeau, Miss Loretta Krueyer, Joseph Crepeau, Dan Matthews, Cletus Krueyer and Frank Hiss.

An artistic affair was the buffet supper given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Stedman at their beautiful home on Park av. for their daughter, Miss Mary Hilda Stedman, and Henry B. Cross of Providence, R. I., whose wedding will take place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at St. James' Episcopal church. The guests were the bridal party and out of town guests in the city for the wedding.

The bridal table occupied the center of the dining room and was set in lace over pale yellow. The centerpiece was a silver urn filled with bronze poinsettias and chrysanthemums. Covers were placed here for Miss Stedman, Mr. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. George Blair of Mishawaka, Miss Edna True of Chicago, James Frederick Cross of East Orange, N. J., Clarence H. Michaels of New York, Cecil B. Annette and Frederick Cunningham of New York, Harry H. Hunter of Evansville, Franklin S. Riley and Shirley J. Reynolds of South Bend.

About the central table were grouped a number of smaller ones centered with small vases of Japanese chrysanthemums. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. James C. Cross of East Orange, parents of the groom and Mrs. John J. Momen of Newark, N. J., sister of the groom, who arrived Friday. Mr. Cross arrived Thursday.

Among the delightful Halloween affairs last evening was the dancing party given by the senior class of the high school in Melville hall, 40 couples attending. Cornucopias and pumpkins surrounded the hall and the lights were shaded in the class colors, burnt orange and gray. The grand march which began at 9 o'clock was led by Gladys Watters and Leon Livingston and the dancing committee, Esther Bean, Dorothy Daily, June Hall, Arthur Fisher and Everett Leisure.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Phillips, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Hammond entertained the members of the Old Time Friends' club and their husbands Friday evening at a Halloween dinner at their home 710 S. Columbia st. The guests were placed at several tables artistically arranged with centerpieces of fruit. The lights, place cards and other adornments were suggestive of the season.

A Halloween dancing party for the Benedict club was one of the pleasant affairs of last evening. A Halloween ween lunch was served in the dining room at a large table decorated with jack-o'-lanterns on a mound of autumn leaves. Matter's full orchestra played the program of dances for 35 couples. The entertaining committee included Mr. and Mrs. John Woolverton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woolverton and Mr. and Mrs. William Moore. The next dance will be in two weeks.

The Business Girls' Bible class of South Bend entertained the Mishawaka class last evening at a Halloween frolic at the Y. W. C. A. The reading room, auditorium and gymnasium were decorated with corn shocks and jack-o'-lanterns and a class room was fitted up as a "chamber of horrors." On the rostrum in the auditorium was a huge witch's cauldron presided over by Miss Frances L. Miss Ethel Coleman, and Miss Pearl Camfield, disguised as witches. In another corner of the room, Miss Hannah Auer told fortunes. Later with the guests grouped around the fireplace in the reading room, Miss Jane White told ghost stories. The refreshments consisted of cider and doughnuts.

Earl Bauer, 525 Cottage Grove av., entertained with a Halloween party Friday evening at his home, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The guests came in costume and Lawrence Seigmuller and Hazel Hasey won the prizes for the cleverest make-ups. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Amos acting as judges. A Halloween lunch was served at 2:30 o'clock. The guests included Franklin Wahl, Trolay Burket, Ernest Burner, Edward Tuckey, Clyde Landgraf, Richard Welton, Lawrence Seigmuller, Josephine Smith, Walter Amos, Hazel and Mabel Hasey, Dorothy Worgon, Corinne Seigmuller, Janette Zittler, Vera Trager and Bernice McPherson.

Miss Mae Logan, delightfully entertained 16 friends Friday evening at a Halloween party at her home on East Jefferson boulevard. Appropriate music and games with fortune telling and ghost stories were the features of the evening after which delicious refreshments were served. The guests included Misses Martha and Lilian Geissel, Miss Lena Seifer, Miss Susanna Podewitz, Miss Pauline Mischker, William Young, Richard Krause, Emil Geissel, Milton Gerner, Stephen Salzman all of South Bend and Victor Mischker of Mishawaka, Miss Sarah Lockwood, Miss Carrie Ellicks, Carl Lang and John Long of Elsieola.

Forty friends of Miss Ruth Kimble were pleasantly entertained Friday evening at a masquerade party at her home on the Michigan road. Halloween games occupied the evening and at its close refreshments were served.

For the purpose of organizing into a permanent society the business women of the First Presbyterian church met Thursday evening at the manse, 502 W. Washington av. The following officers were elected: President, Miss Ruth Chamberlain; vice president, Miss Elizabeth Turner; secretary, Miss E. M. Jackson; and treasurer, Miss Maud Allen. The society will meet the second Thursday evening of each month. The next meeting will be Nov. 13 with Miss Charlotte Partridge, 509 Rush st.

Word has been received of the marriage in Fort Wayne Wednesday of Miss Mary M. Barney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barney of Fort Wayne, to Harry O. Early of South Bend, son of Mrs. John Early of Logansport. The wedding took place in the evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. W. E. Hunter officiating.

AFTERNOON GOWN IN BLUE CASHMERE

The kimono bodice has a broad band of the same material seamed at the neck part from the waist to over the shoulders. In the front the two bands are curved in two points and fixed together over the chest by a large bow of dark and light striped silk ribbon, blue and brick, and show between them a piece of blousing quilted ivory silk voile as an under blouse. The three-quarter sleeves and the pointed low neck are trimmed with round cuffs and collar in a pointed effect. A very high belt in striped silk ribbon is draped round the waist and the hips and fall as a broad sash at the back from the top of the belt to make a point on one side. The plain skirt is closed in the front, the right side being raised and draped in a broad fold pleat caught a little below the waist, under that pleat the other side of the skirt is slightly draped up in front.

Katherine Fricke in witch's costume, told fortunes, assisted by Miss Louise Thompson, dressed as an owl. Miss Fricke received the prize for cleverest costume, and Annie Laurie Gelbreck won the favor in a guessing contest. Miss Esther Fulton gave a violin solo. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

SOCIAL CLUBS

Members of the Qui Vive club were guests Friday evening at a Halloween marshmallow and wienie roast at the home of Miss Ethel Todd, 1117 Bowman st. The roast was held in a vacant lot beside the house and later games and music were enjoyed inside. The rooms were prettily arranged with autumn leaves. There were 25 guests present, among them being several from out of the city. Flashlight pictures were taken. In a popular contest for boy and girl Irene Paul and Jessie Marble were winners. ## LEADERS CAVORT AS GHOST

Supt. of Schools L. J. Montgomery entertained the principals of the schools and their wives Friday evening at a Halloween party at his home, 605 N. Main st., the guests numbering 30. They were ushered in at the back door after climbing over a series of obstructions and found the house decorated in black and yellow and lighted only by candles and jack-o'-lanterns. Black cats and witches were also in evidence. All the guests came disguised as ghosts and the evening was spent with Halloween contests, fitting together broken pumpkins, and like amusements. After the contests a delicious buffet supper was served.

STUDENT RETREAT ENDED

Feast of All Saints High Mass Concludes Session.

Solemn high mass in honor of the feast of All Saints, followed by the granting of the papal blessing brought to a close one of the most successful student retreats ever conducted at Notre Dame. In his closing sermon Father French exhorted the students to live at college the kind of life they wish to lead in after life. "Habits formed in our youth are most difficult to eradicate in later years," declared the missionary, "and I beseech you young men, to beware of the dangers and temptations that now beset you. Think often of the truths you have heard and try in the future to better your conduct."

FUNERAL OF PROFESSOR PETERSON HELD MONDAY

Funeral services of Prof. Charles Peterson will be held from Sacred Heart chapel at Notre Dame university Monday morning. Father Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame, will be the celebrant of a solemn requiem mass and Father Schumacher will deliver the funeral sermon. Because of the dead professor's long connection with the military and music departments at the university, the cadet band and battalions will act as a guard of honor for the funeral procession to Cedar Grove cemetery. The rest of the student body will also march to the cemetery and the cadet firing squad will give a farewell salute over the grave of the dead professor.

DR. THOMSON'S EYE TALK
(TALK NO. 191.)
Glasses and Glasses.

I often hear people say that they have never found glasses they could see through. They could always see better with the naked eye. Their eyes give them trouble and reading tires them, but they don't believe they need glasses because they have tried with the above results. The only trouble is they have never found the right glasses. Lenses are not all alike. There are strong glasses and weak ones. Glasses for old and glasses for young. Glasses for far-sighted people and glasses for near-sighted people. More than seventy thousand different combinations. If you have the slightest suspicion that your eyes are not perfectly right, let me show you glasses you can see through. If you need them I will make you see easier than you ever did before. If you do not need glasses I will not let you have them at any price.
